SANDY'S DAILY MESSAGE

Well, I hope the announcement made by the Prime Minister last night made sense to you all.

You are all probably aware that the Government's intention is to re-open schools and introduce a phased return for younger pupils as from 1st June.

The DfE have been in touch today and have promised guidelines by which we should adhere, should this phased return go ahead.

I will keep you updated in this respect.

Those of you who are entitled to free school meals vouchers, should be receiving a further voucher for £45 this week. This is for three weeks entitlement and will take you up to 29th May.

Sandy

ACTIVITIES / LINKS THAT MIGHT BE HELPFUL

With so much on-line activity being undertaken by children during the lockdown, Childnet have released six new easy to follow videos for parents and children to work through together. Aimed specifically at younger children, the 10-15 minute videos offer simple, clear online safety advice using fun activities, games and discussion. There are also optional follow-up activities to extend children's learning.

The videos can be found here:

WHAT'S EVERYONE BEEN UP TO?

It has been lovely hearing all about your VE Day celebrations. Some streets really partied hard, we hear - going on until the early hours of the morning - whilst maintaining social distancing rules of course! It sounds as though you all had a wonderful time.

Alex and his family put on their best VE day attire for their celebrations.

Whilst Kevin appeared to have a very special guest arrive at his street party! As always our Mr. Magic did not disappoint and treated the children in the street to a special VE day magic show.

Lily made some wonderful VE Day cakes, which Mum, Kayleigh said were delicious. We think you are a very talented baker Lily, as we hear you made these entirely on your own.

Pupils in Hazel Class have been busy baking this weekend too, following the shortbread recipe that Frances set as one of their activities.

Alex made his shortbread biscuits into star shapes. He enjoyed baking them, but did not enjoy the taste - although the rest of his family really enjoyed them.

Nana made his shortbread, with his sister looking on - she is keen to be able to bake like him and always wants to help him.

The finished biscuits look really professional Nana. No wonder your sister is keen to bake like you!

Our very special volunteer is still working hard and this weekend has been helping to assemble visors. We are so proud of all you are doing to help during the current climate Udi. Keep it up!

On Saturday, Udi went to a Nature Reserve and had a lovely walk with her Mum and Kim. There were lots of birds chirping and Udi had to guess which direction the sounds were coming from. It's not as easy as you imagine.

She also had time to relax on the grass, reading her activity book.

It seems as though one way of another, we all had a good bank holiday weekend.
