SANDY'S DAILY MESSAGE

There's not much for me to report today, other than to reiterate that the pupils who have returned this week have all coped admirably.

I know I said this yesterday, but after being off for so long, for some of them it can take a while to get back into a school routine, especially since at present it is different to the routine they knew!

Children are far more resilient than we think.

I look forward to speaking to those of you who have requested the link to the parent zoom meeting tomorrow at 4.30pm.

ACTIVITIES / LINKS THAT MIGHT BE HELPFUL

Today's 'Lockdown Project' worksheet is attached and is entitled "Interview your Parents". What might be nice, now that single bubbles are opening up, is for children to ask their grandparents these questions too.

One of the things we have noticed that does prove difficult for many of our pupils is coming to terms with people wearing masks.

Should any of you have to contemplate travelling on public transport, you could be dreading the thought. However we are pleased to report that The Department of Transport has now confirmed there will be exemptions to the need to wear face masks on public transport for the disabled, those who suffer breathing difficulties, young children.

Kids First is Merton's forum for parents and carers of children and young people with disabilities or special needs from birth to age 25 and is a project of Merton Mencap.

On Friday, 19th June, they are holding a free webinar for parents entitled "Special Needs & Puberty, Ready or Not, Here it Comes!"

Friday 19 June
10am to 1pm
Special Needs & Puberty, Ready or Not, Here it Comes!
with Mark Brown, Special Help 4 Special Needs

Explore the issues faced by children & teenagers with special needs & discuss ways of supporting your child through the changes of adolescence & growing up, including... How to prepare your child for body changes in puberty. How to explain what is "appropriate" behaviour. Dealing with your child's safety & vulnerability. Practical approaches to anger management.

WHAT'S EVERYONE BEEN UP TO?

This photo popped into our inbox and it looks like a monster is trying to eat Mickey Mouse!

Who do you think is dressing up and trying to trick us?
We'll let you know tomorrow.
